

Conflict Mineral Statement

Section 1502 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, signed into law on July 21, 2010, requires all publicly traded companies to report the origin of certain raw materials. This consumer protection act is focused on raw materials that originate from the Democratic Republic of the Congo or an adjoining country, referred to as conflict minerals, and includes: tantalum, tin, tungsten and gold.

As a good corporate citizen, Pepperl + Fuchs Comtrol, Inc. is supportive of this initiative by the EICC of not utilizing conflict minerals within the supply chain. However, Pepperl + Fuchs Comtrol, Inc. is many steps removed from the procurement of the raw materials and therefore has no direct ability to influence sourcing. While Pepperl + Fuchs Comtrol, Inc. is not a publicly traded company, and is not required to file this information with the SEC, we want to help our customers that may need or want this information. Pepperl + Fuchs Comtrol, Inc. is currently working with all of its contract manufacturers and suppliers to ensure that components which include the aforementioned conflict minerals are not sourced from the DRC or adjoining countries as set out in the legislation. Moreover, Pepperl + Fuchs Comtrol, Inc. has not, and will not, knowingly supply any customers with products that are manufactured with raw materials sourced from the DRC or adjoining countries.
